

I had to read all these reports and write an evaluative summary.
Instead, I just asked a random person to do it for me!

Umm ... doesn't sound very rigorous?

Don't worry, it wasn't a real person, it was a robot.

Um, is that any better?

Don't worry, the robot is from Microsoft

That's ok
then?

Elon Musk?

Robot, identify the most important stories in this pile of documents and summarise them!

Yippee, I get to make evaluative judgements all on my own.

Robot, give me a table of the numbered paragraphs in this document, and for each one list and describe any education initiatives mentioned!

Oh, that is SO BORING

Good. Now ...

If your robot is enjoying itself, you're prompting it wrong
